

PRODUCT SPECIFICATION

ABUS Platinum Padlocks

The ABUS 34 series, also known as the ABUS Platinum Padlock, it contains anti-drill cylinder protection, a hardened alloy steel body and removable and double bolted shackle. It insurance approved up to a CEN Standard grade 4.

The double bolted shackle, also used in the highest security models such as the Granit Series, is secured from both sides within the padlock using small sliding balls. When unlocked the key is retained within the padlock until it is re-locked.

They are available in an open and close shackle design. The open shackle model has a curved notch cut from the body below the shackle which gives a remarkable amount of horizontal clearance.

If the Closed Shackle model is combined with a 10mm ABUS chain, they form a Thatcham approved security grade.
